

Instructions for "Name Rocket" craft

This craft can be assembled in the black and white version or the color version. If you choose black and white, your child can color in the squares. It is still very early in the year, so I recommend cutting all the pieces out before they assemble. They will need enough squares for each letter of their name, so if their name is particularly long, they might need two sheets of the rocket craft document. You will also need a long strip of paper (any color) to glue the individual squares onto to make the rocket. Once rocket is assembled, children should write each letter of their name on a different square. If they are new to writing, parents or caretakers can write the letters and your child can trace the letters. Please reinforce the letters in your child's name as you write them. For example, if you child's name is Danny, say each letter as you write on each square...D-A-N-N-Y...Danny!
